

Judge's Statement

30th Annual Fine Arts Show

Arts Council of Moore County

It was an honor to be invited at the Arts Council of Moore County to judge its distinguished fine Arts Show this year. In reviewing the many fine works submitted, I tried to focus on those that stood out by virtue of taking some risks, of exploring the qualities of the medium, or of achieving a combination of composition and concept. It may well be that I liked some works for qualities that were far from their makers' intention, and it may well be that I liked some works for experimenting. I tip my hat to all the entries, evidence of a dedication to visual expression that warms the heart of this museum curator.

2010

Peter Nisbet

Chief Curator

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina